2. Personal Bio

LaQuita Cleare, CEO of Clear Communication Academy, is a highly sought-after public speaking, storytelling, and communication expert who transforms CEOs, companies, entrepreneurs, and public figures into powerful, engaging communicators.

LaQuita's Masters Studies in Psychology enables her work to be science/research-based, while her Theatre degree helps her take the client's vocal and physical delivery skills to an elevated level. Her work in Hollywood both in front of and behind the camera has helped to make her a storytelling magician and has led to her being a sought-after resource for Storytelling.

Over the past decade, she has worked in 50+ countries, across 5 continents, speaking at numerous prestigious schools and events including Harvard events, INSEAD Business School, and Milan Polytechnico. She has worked with leading companies like Chase, Covergirl, Ikea, RR Donnelly, Pepsi, and more. She has also been featured on ABC, FX Network, Lifetime, and LA Talk Radio.

After her workshops and trainings clients learn to:

- Present themselves in a more powerful way
- Captivate with stories
- Perfect their pitch to investors
- Engage and motivate their internal teams
- Develop compelling and concise messages
- Successfully navigate IPOs
- Master virtual communication

She is a high-rated resource within YPO working YPO GLC/Edge, International and Chapter level events. LaQuita has also spoken at the GLC. Throughout the pandemic, she has become a go-to expert in the virtual communication space. Her company created a signature method for connecting and engaging virtually that has been used by YPO and companies worldwide.

LaQuita is on a mission to change the way the world communicates one speaker at a time.

6. Testimonials:

"Worth Every Minute"

LaQuita gave us the insight and training to speak at a level typically only experienced by professional speakers and politicians, every minute of the seminar was worth it, I'm looking forward to another class.

- Tony Mirchandani, CEO, RTM Engineering Consultants LLC.

"Effective Communication"

The whole training was energetic and very educational. The feedback from all participants was very positive. I would highly recommend LaQuita Ann to any individual or group looking to improve the effectiveness of their communications.

- Manuel Ebner, Chairman, Country Executive, Bank of America Merrill Lynch

"Big Ideas and Products"

I would like to thank you for your work together on my presentation at the YPO Edge event. Your professional and elegant way of teaching was remarkable and contributed much to the success of my lecture.

- Ziv Aviram, Co-Founder, President, CEO, Mobileye, Israel

"Step out of Your Comfort Zone"

Contrary to my fears though, not only LaQuita's workshop was very useful and constructive but her personality and approach made it even enjoyable to stand up and speak. What was even more unexpected, was the fact that we would get up to speak on topics varying from personal stories, to subjects none of us had any idea on, nor any time to prepare for and we managed to do it successfully.

Public speaking definitely needs a lot of practice and LaQuita gave us the right tools to practice it correctly but most importantly, to stop fearing the idea of it. I'd love to have her coach me again as well as my work team!

- Vasso Vassiliou, Managing Director at Innovation / Leo Burnett in Cyprus

"Gain confidence and Understanding"

I signed up to do a public speaking seminar through YPO fully expecting world-class resources and an only-in-YPO experience. I am happy to say that my expectations were thoroughly exceeded. LaQuita is a brilliant instructor, observer, coach, and psychologist all rolled into one. She took us through a fast-paced two-and-a-half-day program that allowed every one of the 20 of us to quickly develop our skills and gain the confidence and understanding required to significantly improve our public speaking abilities. I, for one, came in wanting to learn some "tricks of the trade" and to get more comfortable sharing and presenting my thoughts and ideas. I certainly got what I bargained for and more. I believe everyone else also left feeling the same way. I highly recommend LaQuita and her methodology. Do yourself a favor and sign up for the next seminar she's leading. 10 out of 10

-Kojo Mills, Founder and Managing Partner, Invictus Africa Group

"Targeted Feedback"

LaQuita Ann was a superb resource for our crash course in public speaking. Her professional demeanor and targeted feedback quickly put us at ease and helped establish the foundational skillsets to enhance our speech delivery.

-Bryan Pritchard, President / CEO at Tricap Residential Group

"Keynote Speaking"

It was our tremendous pleasure to have LaQuita take the main stage at our annual client event, with 200+ CEO's in the audience. With a highly entertaining, interactive and thoroughly accessible presentation, LaQuita vested us with actionable take-home tactics for improving our communication in words, voice and body language. The hands-on portion of her presentation, with multiple CEOs practicing technique on stage, was one of the most memorable segments of our 3-day conference, and LaQuita was our highest-rated presenter. Our clients talk about it to this day, and my partners and I frequently refer back to LaQuita's advice, in our desire to be ever-better communicators.

- Christopher Larkins, PHD Partner – CEO Coaching International

"Unsurpassed Professionalism"

I can highly recommend LaQuita Ann Cleare as a fantastic public speaking coach. I have worked with her on my own speech-making skills; I have seen the results of her work in preparing TED-like speakers for a large global conference of CEO's; and I have worked with her in a multi-day group workshop format with 25 young adults. In each of these settings, her professionalism, engagement and subject matter knowledge were unsurpassed. She is energetic, professional and knowledgeable. I highly recommend her for any number of projects relating to speech-making, presentations, media relations, interview skills and marketing.

- Frank Baer, CEO, Commercial Insurance Services
